

I am a river

I am a dancer

Jumping up and down,

I twist and turn,

I dance along to the echoes of my song.

I am spider,

stretching my hand out

Some people says

I am a tree branch

falling of a big tree.

I am a bronze snake

A ribbon a slow calm river

Big or small.

I am the sea now

Spitting out all the junk

You throw at me

waiting for the other half of my heart.
