

The magic paint brush

One day I was drawing pictures at the park on the floor, then a mystery man came to me he slipped a magic paint brush ^{into my hand}. The man said to me only to paint for the poor and for the rich then a royal queen came to my house she said to paint a jewel I said no I said then she put me in jail she said paint a job I said come back in the morning.
