

- I can talk through my story using my plan.
- I can write each event in the correct order.
- I can write in full sentences.
- I can use conjunctions.

①

Once there lived a young girl called Sophie. She was a princess. One day Sophie's mum asked her to go and get some food because they were struggling to eat because they were running out of food. So she set off into the city to get some. On her way she met a mysterious figure in the distance because she took a shortcut through the lanes. He said Sophie dear child don't be afraid I won't hurt you just take this box of pens. So she went to the magic box of pens. So she went back home to tell her parents what happened. She drew her lots of nice curly pitter bread and buns. The new spreads over fields of corn and over beachy sands. People came crashing in to Sophie painting and drink for the poor they cheered with Sophie said OH NO! It could be possibly to my mum's sister. Paint me a million golden coins. Sophie stood up for herself. NO! I will put you in jail cell and take the magic away. NO! don't. Come back in the morning and you'll have it. Fine! Sophie started painting her escape plan. It took her a while but eventually she finished a key and a handsome horse.

②

③

and turned the key in the hole and galloped back home. She was back they died but she was busy painting a monster listening to hawk beat sounds getting closer and nearer but they stopped and yelled there's a monster and water. She yelled come on lets go boys. Sophie kept the barrier in case they came back again and then they celebrated with sweets. Awesome, but I would have had a banana! This is fantastic Olivia! Next steps: I've used commas " " Okay Mrs Hixon

